

ACTIVITY 7: PRISON BREAK

New Skills Reinforced:

In this activity, you will practice how to:

1. find and replace text in a document.

Activity Overview:

The find and replace feature in Word is one of those elements that makes word processing so great. Editing a first draft is often tough enough without having to find reoccurring text throughout a document. With find and replace, your computer does the searching and swapping for you.

In this activity, you will type a summary from one of today's hottest TV shows, "Prison Break," and replace text within the document.

Instructions:

1. Open a NEW document in Word.

Note: Unless otherwise stated, the font should be set to Times New Roman, the font size to 12 point.

2. Insert a header that includes the activity number and title left aligned, and your name right aligned. Type the header in all caps.

3. Starting on the first line of the document, type the article text exactly as shown in Figure 7-1.

4. Save the document as I First & Last Name, PRISONBREAK

NEW SKILL

5. Find and replace the words provided in the table below. When complete, you should have 20 replacements.

Note: Be careful not to replace "Wentworth Miller" with "Mr. Miller."

Find:	Replace with:
Prison Break	PRISON BREAK
Scofield	Scofield (a.k.a. Fish)
Miller	Mr. Miller

6. Carefully proofread the document for spelling, grammar, and accuracy.
7. Resave the document.
8. Email file to your instructor. Subject line should be the same as your document name.

Wentworth Miller Plays Michael Scofield on Prison Break

Born in the United Kingdom, raised in Brooklyn, New York, and a graduate of Princeton University, Wentworth Miller is a compelling and critically acclaimed young actor whose credits include both television and feature film.

Miller began his career in the industry on the other side of the camera. After graduating from college with a degree in English literature, Miller headed to LA in the spring of 1995 to work for a small production company specializing in movies made for television. However, it wasn't long before Miller's childhood dream to become an actor was undeniable.

Within the next few years, Miller landed guest spots on a variety of shows, including "Buffy the Vampire Slayer," "ER," and "Popular." Miller also starred in the Hallmark mega-series "Dinotopia."

Miller then landed a role in "The Human Stain," starring Sir Anthony Hopkins and Nicole Kidman. A movie examining questions of race, class, and identity, it featured Hopkins as an embattled college professor struggling to conceal an incredible secret, with Miller playing the professor as a young man.

Miller subsequently appeared in the movie "Underworld" and guest-starred on "Joan of Arcadia" and "Ghost Whisperer" before joining the cast of Prison Break, for which he was nominated for a Golden Globe for Best Performance by an Actor in a Television Series - Drama in 2006.

As Michael Scofield on Prison Break, Miller has taken this character beyond what directors could have imagined. Michael's educational background leaves questions as to why such a man would commit the crime he did. Beginning with an immaculate record at Morton East High School, he would later graduate Magna Cum Laude with a B.S. and M.S. in civil engineering from Loyola University of Chicago.

At the time of his arrest, Scofield was employed as a structural engineer at the prestigious firm of Middleton, Maxwell and Schaum located in Chicago, Illinois. Scofield was convicted of armed robbery after attempting to steal over half a million dollars from the downtown Chicago branch of United Savings Bank. At his trial, Scofield pled no contest and requested to serve time in the Level One facility closest to his Chicago home. Prior to his escape, the inmate had logged visits with Veronica Donovan, his attorney, and was approved for monthly conjugal visits with Nika Volek, his wife.

Now at large, Scofield is believed to have reunited with his long lost father, Aldo Burrows. Aldo, a former member of the company also on the run, is responsible for exposing the embezzlement of EcoField's funds by President Reynolds' brother Terrence Steadman into his sister's election campaign. This prompted The Company and Reynolds to subsequently frame-up Lincoln for Steadman's murder to draw out Aldo Burrows. Scofield and Burrows were recently apprehended by Border Patrol in New Mexico, but slipped out of their handcuffs while in transport and escaped. Prison Break can be seen at 8 pm on Monday nights on Fox.
